

HIRE THE HOUSE

SEPARATED BY A WALL & 200 YEARS THE HOMES OF TWO MUSICIANS WHO CHOSE LONDON & CHANGED MUSIC.

Handel Hendrix House was home to the composer G.F. Handel and rock legend Jimi Hendrix. Following a £3million refurbishment, Handel Hendrix House reopened to the public as a museum in May 2023 and is now open for exclusive events and entertaining.

This Grade I - listed Georgian property in the heart of Mayfair offers elegantly restored Georgian interiors, 1960s glamour, a unique atmosphere and extraordinary stories of two of the greatest musicians to ever lived in London.

Working with RBMH Event Design, Handel Hendrix House offers the perfect choice for intimate dinners for up to 22 people and receptions for 100.

RBMH Event Design can work with you to design the perfect menu for your occasion, whether that be formal business reception and dinner, or celebratory private gathering of friends. Their menus, wine lists, design and attention will ensure your event runs perfectly.

HANDEL'S HOME THE FORE PARLOUR

The Fore Parlour, overlooking the street, served as a reception area for all of Handel's visitors to the house. Musicians rehearsed here, friends gathered, and fans collected their special subscriber copies of Handel's music. Today, this versatile space offers the ideal backdrop for your next event, suitable for various occasions, including special seated dinners, standing receptions and intimate concerts.

HANDEL'S HOME THE MUSIC ROOM

Undoubtedly the most opulent space in the house, this room was Handel's haven for entertaining wealthy patrons, rehearsing his singers and musicians, and showcasing his prized art collection. Continuing the legacy of this storied room, you're invited to host your next event in this truly historic setting. Adorned with Georgian decor and featuring our playable 18th-century harpsichord, it offers a unique and enchanting ambiance, perfect for any reception.
